

Brendan Burnett-Kurie photos

1988 Olympic high jump silver medalist (and 1992 bronze medalist) Hollis Conway speaks to Douglas Intermediate School students during the graduation ceremony for "Too Good For Drugs" April 30. Conway visited Douglas for two days, which included stops with both the high school and middle school track and field teams and a public speech May 1.

Olympic INSPIRATION

Kaitlyn Murphy, (left) looks at Conway's bronze medal from the 1992 Summer Olympics in Barcelona, Spain. Conway cleared 7' 8.5" despite being only 6' tall. Conway (below) got kids energized with a message about staying clear of drugs.

